“I met Bill in September 2016 as a student of his Project Management Professional course, at Naval Service Training Command at Naval Station Great Lakes. He prepares the students for success with a teaching style that engages the students in discussion during his classes and weekly study sessions. Additionally, by following his daily course of self study students will be prepared for success on the 200 question PMP certification exam. I would not have passed the exam without his mentorship and guidance.”

— Matthew Laing, Command Master Chief, US Navy

“Bill Baxter’s approach to learning PMP concepts are second to none. His approach and custom content boils down what can be overwhelming in the PMBOK into straightforward, memorable, learning material easy to comprehend. Bill’s teaching and delivery methods target a comprehensive understanding of PMP knowledge areas, processes, and ITTOs which delivers a deep understanding of how to apply these principles to everyday work experiences (as opposed to rote memorization). These concepts will be impactful in our business-related projects, enabling more effective and judicious use of our resources and successful project outcomes.”

— Mark Gecsey, VP Operations Management

“I highly recommend Bill Baxter’s Project Road Training program! He breaks down the material in an easy to understand format and helps you focus on what is truly important. Even throughout my studies, I began to leverage what I was learning in my day to day routine. Not only is Bill a fantastic teacher, he also provides support every step of the way.”

— Nicole Bono, PMP, Director, Project Management
